Venue Prices and Information

About Us

The Serpentine Retreat Centre is owned and managed by the Centre for Attitudinal Healing, a not-for-profit organisation. Located in the peaceful, lush surrounds of the Serpentine area, the Centre is a one hour drive south east of the Perth CBD. Our retreat space is set on 16 hectares of land where jarrah and marri trees thrive, a family of kangaroos visit and a variety of birds and native animals call home. During winter a creek rushes merrily through the property. Walking trails are close by, one of which leads directly to the Serpentine National Park and the magic of Serpentine Falls.

Being this close to nature is where play, connection and rest can take place in equal amounts as you take time out from the frenetic pace of modern life. We look forward to hosting you and helping you to create that inspirational and unforgettable experience of feeling truly alive.

Sustainability

The Centre for Attitudinal Healing believes that personal and collective wellbeing goes hand in hand with the wellbeing of the environment.

We put in place practices at the Serpentine Retreat Centre that reduce our ecological footprint on the planet and sustain our wildlife; these include:

- separating rubbish for recycling purposes
- reusing cardboard as compost in the garden
- recycling plastic
- conserving energy through turning off light switches
- being mindful of water usage
- closing all doors to rooms and ablution block to prevent trapping insects inside
- keeping toilet lids down to prevent trapping reptiles (such as lizards)
- preserving fallen wood on the property. If firewood for the outdoor fire pit is required please order directly from Neil Kentish on 0419 843 937 (delivered). Wood for the indoor pot belly is provided by the centre, and is not to be used for the outdoor firepit
- minimising food waste by encouraging visitors to take home food they have brought.

We encourage all guests to our centre to observe and apply these practices wherever possible.
